

JOHN O'HURLEY

Award-winning actor John O'Hurley has catapulted into one of television's busiest and most versatile actor/show host, Broadway star, advertising hero, as well as being a New York Times best-selling author and Billboard chart-topping composer. O'Hurley is best known as "J. Peterman" on "Seinfeld" which is now the #1 syndicated show in the world and can be seen in 85 countries. John won a Screen Actors Guild Award for his work on "Seinfeld." It was O'Hurley's unique portrayal of the wry and witty "J. Peterman" that led to dozens of advertising campaigns for companies earning him multiple advertising and marketing industry awards.

He captured America's heart with his turn on Season 1 of "Dancing with the Stars," where he officially won the ABC series with the highly contested "Dance Off" and was named one of People Magazine's, "Sexiest Men Alive". O'Hurley is now the regular host of NBC Sports highest-rated yearly show, "The National Dog Show presented by Purina," a seventeen year-old Thanksgiving tradition to 30 million viewers, as well as The Beverly Hills Dog Show airing on Easter Sunday. He was also host of the long-time popular game shows "Family Feud" and "To Tell The Truth." One of the most recognizable voices in entertainment, he is the voice of many animated characters like King Neptune on "Sponge Bob Square Pants" and the Mayor on Disney's hit "Phineas and Ferb."

On Broadway and on stages across the country, he is best known for his many performances as King Arthur on Monty Python's "Spamalot" and his continuing portrayal of slick lawyer, Billy Flynn in the Broadway legend "Chicago", which earned him Best Actor status in the city of Chicago in 2011. His current one-man touring show, "A Man With Standards" was nominated as Broadway World's Best Celebrity Show.

As a composer/pianist, both of his albums "Secrets From The Lake" and "Peace Of Our Minds" have reached the Billboard charts. His three books have all been Amazon and New York Times Best Sellers.

In 2012, he was awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor in recognition for his accomplishments in the Arts and Philanthropy

John lives in Beverly Hills with his wife Lisa and their son, William.

